Technology Services

Are you ready for a disaster?

Probably not, but then again most businesses are not fully protected.

In most cases company's will implement just enough controls to minimize the risk of losing data, yet if you are not monitoring those controls are you truly protected? Now, for the cost of a mid-tier server you can purchase that piece of mind.

Genesis is now offering backup and disaster recovery services including offsite storage of critical data or complete servers and restoration of backups to virtual servers for quick recoveries. Some of the many benefits of this new service include 24x7 backup monitoring, quick restoration of files, 256-bit AES encryption for offsite storage, and a complete managed service using the latest virtualization and replication technologies.
